THE HOME CIRCLE.

MOTHER.
It is a wonderful thing, a mother, other folks can love you, but only your mother understands. She works for you, looks after you, loves you, forgives you anything you do, understands you, and then the only thing that she ever does to you is to die and leave you.—Baroness Von Hutten.

"Yesterday is but a dream, and tomorrow is but a vision. Today well lived and its work well done will make every yesterday a dream of happiness, and every tomorrow a vision of hope. Therefore look well to-day."

"Be strong, we are not here to play, to dream, to drift; We have hard work to do, and loads to lift—Shun not the struggle, it is God's gift."

"People need from us nothing so much as good cheer and encouragement. Life is hard for most and needs inspiration. The best friendship is that which inspires us to do better, to do our best."

UNNECESSARY BURDENS IN HOUSEKEEPING.

Many a weary housekeeper if she would but cast her eyes about her house as though she were seeing it for the first time would discover many ways to lighten her daily tasks. She has become so accustomed to the burdens piled upon her back that though her back may ache under them, their very familiarity has dulled her perception of how she might get rid of many of them. But let her go about her home as though she were looking at every single thing in it impersonally and for the first time and immediately her eyes will be opened and she will discern that a large part of her daily work is unnecessary.

In the matter of dusting alone what couldn't many a housewife save herself if she would eliminate some of the dust catchers in her furnishings. Vases and bric-a-brac that are an endless amount of intricate ornament mean literally hours spent in dusting them in the course of a month. Just as beautiful ornaments can be found whose beauty is a matter of line and color and whose smooth surface can be dusted in a second.

Many of the ornaments about a home could be discarded altogether with advantage so far as artistic results in furnishings are concerned. They simply accumulate and the eye becomes so accustomed to them that it scarcely notices them. Yet week after week, they must all be dusted. If the housewife would wake up to this useless accumulation about her instead of cleaning it mechanically year in and out, she could save herself a lot of monotonous labor. She should study them as if they did not belong to her but to some one else and to ask honestly and critically, "Are they really ornamental or useful?" She will probably be surprised at the number of things she can clear away without ever missing them.

China could be used in many cases instead of silver and thus do away with the unpleasant task of cleaning silver. All sorts of brass furnishings could be avoided, for brass will tarnish and polishing it is no easy or delightful work. The use of many of such furnishings is simply a matter of style. Just as beautiful and much more easily cared for articles are to be found. On the whole, "less is more" have said it is fashionable to have silver or brass and so the home is filled up with it and weary hours are spent in keeping it bright.

A man once said the first thing he did when visiting was to look the pillow shams up in his trunk. Most housekeepers would rise up to intelligent protest if one laid hands on that sacred institution of the home, the pillow sham. But every morning it must be carefully spread over the pillow and every night carefully laid off, to say nothing of its washing and ironing. Aren't clean, fresh pillow cases just as attractive? And if one case shams be changed the pillow cases are not clean.

A housekeeper if she would forget tradition, discard conventions and study her home and her work carefully would find she is loaded up with many unnecessary burdens. The trouble with many a woman is that she is in a rut. She performs her work in traditional fashion and never thinks as she does it whether she is doing it in the way most economical of time and on judgment. Seven women out of ten realize about their homes and from parlor, dining room and bedroom would rather have a lot of things that are only dust

BEEF ESSENCE WITHOUT BOILING.

When uncooked beef joints are prepared for an invalid here is the best idea for beef tea of the nutritious beef essence. Put one half pound of raw lean beef, cut fine, in a glass jar. Set the jar in a pan of cold water, heat gradually, bringing it almost to a boil, and keep at this point about two hours. Strain, season slightly with salt and serve the liquid while hot.

Those Dizzy Feelings.

By Dr. True

People often come to me complaining of dizziness and nausea. If they look down, or up, or change position suddenly, they have a whirling, topsy-turvy feeling that is very distressing. They are in a truly wretched condition—unfit for business or pleasure—half sick and feeling just as bad as if wholly so.

Now, I find nine times in ten that such people have been careless about eating, and haven't kept their bowels in good order. People don't always know it, but really most sickness comes from neglect of stomach and bowels. This fact I have learned in a long and laborious practice. I urge you, then, if you feel dizzy, nervous, depressed, see spots before your eyes or have bad breath, to begin taking my Elixir. It may be had of almost any dealer—at a very moderate cost. This is a pleasant remedy to take and is very effective. It will certainly remove the poisons from your system, restore your appetite, cause your food to digest properly and your bowels to act as nature meant they should. Also expel stomach worms and pin worms if any be present. Go, then, to the nearest dealer and ask for Dr. True's Elixir. I am sure that you will not be disappointed in the good it will do you.

WILL REVIVE COW TEST ASSOCIATIONS.

And Organize New Ones, Says Commissioner Roberts.

At the second annual meeting of the Maine Federation of Agricultural Associations, Commissioner of Agriculture, Hon. J. A. Roberts, of Norway, outlined his position regarding dairy work while speaking on "Organized Agriculture."

In What Direction, if any, is Further Organization Needed?" Commissioner Roberts said that he intended to revive dairy bookkeeping associations which had been doing such good work with the Maine farmers but which had failed to continue their work during the past two years through lack of department support.

Commissioner Roberts also stated that it was his intention to foster the breeders as associations throughout the State. In all his best assistance to every organized effort promoting agriculture. On closing Commissioner Roberts stated that the duty of the Department was to help the farmers of Maine and he proposed to see that the best attention was given to this duty.

RUMFORD.

Miss Marie Lovejoy is improving in health after her recent injury received by falling down stairs at the Mechanics Institute.

Miss Judith Thomas has severed her connection with the International Paper Co.

Geo. Stanwood of Haverhill, Mass., has been the guest of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Stanwood, for the past week.

R. T. Parker was called to Providence, R. I., Friday, by the sudden death of his brother, Dr. Parker, of that city, with pneumonia.

V. A. Blanford returned Monday to his work at Madrid, where he has been for the past three months with C. V. Richards in the lumber business.

St. Margaret's Guild was entertained Tuesday afternoon at the rectory. The ladies made over twenty dollars on their food sale, which was held at the store of Stanley Bisbee on Wednesday of last week.

Miss Dorothy Longley of New Haven, Conn., was the week end guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Putnam.

The choir at St. Barnabas Episcopal church is making preparations for excellent Easter music, and will have two rehearsals this week at the church for the same.

Miss Jennie Pratt left Sunday for a week's visit with her family, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pratt, of Lewiston.

Mrs. O. A. Pettigill returned Friday from New York, where she has been buying spring goods for her Easter opening.

Services will be held daily at St. Barnabas Episcopal church during holy week at 5 P. M., and on Good Friday there will be a three hour service from 12 o'clock until 3 to commemorate the hours of Christ's hanging on the cross.

Mr. Fred Gonyea of Bar Harbor is the guest of his brothers, O. J. and S. J. Gonyea, for a few days.

Quite a delegation of Rumford men went to Augusta, Thursday, to attend the hearing on the York County Bill. Among those attending were L. W. Blanchard, S. J. Gonyea and M. McCarthy and E. L. Cowan. This bill is one which can not fail to interest any and all persons interested in the development of Oxford County, for it was intended to give the right to the York County Power Co. to transmit power from any part of the State that they could obtain it. Rumford, of course, being one of the central water powers of the State, would suffer more than any other place, and the citizens of Rumford did not wish to sit calmly down and see this bill pass, as it is necessary to retain all the inducements which Rumford possesses to induce other industries to come in.

The term of Supreme Court at So. Paris was very short this time and finished on Monday. Jas. Callender, a barber for Geo. McMennamin, was convicted on a nuisance charge and sentenced to five hundred dollars and costs or three months in jail and he decided to accept the jail sentence.

Jack Watts another Rumford offender got nine months. It would seem that the way of the offender is hard this term certainly.

T. C. Hutton of Brunswick was in town on Tuesday of last week to meet the members of the Chamber of Commerce to discuss the plan of starting a knitting industry in this town. Mr. Hutton's idea is to form a company, composed of the business men of the town and to have these men take stock in this company and thereby furnish the capital which would need be about twenty thousand dollars. The amount of power required to run this plant, is very small and it would employ from twenty-five to thirty hands, mostly girls. Hutton stated that he started this industry in Brunswick some few years ago on a small plan and it has now grown to be one of the leading interests in the town. See
